

What was the last interaction each disciple had with the living Jesus? Why is His greeting particularly pastoral?

“Disbelieved for joy...” (I love that phrase.) What was a time you received news so good it seemed too good to be true? How is that a glimpse of “resurrection joy?”

Why is it significant that Jesus has flesh and bones? How should this impact our view of eternity?

Jesus opened their minds to understand the Scriptures. Do you think that is still necessary today? (Can you support your answer with a passage?)

How would you answer a person who said to you, “God hasn’t given me the ability to understand the Bible?” How would you seek to minister to them?

How does this passage challenge, encourage, correct, or teach you more about the beauty of the gospel? Did the passage convict you of sin, comfort you in suffering or confirm your salvation to you? If so, how?
