

John the Baptist, who once baptized Jesus, now questions His messiahship. What does this say about the nature of doubt and faith in the life of a believer?

How can we deal with our own doubts when they arise?

Why does Jesus say John the Baptist is the greatest person ever born, but also say that even the least important person in the kingdom of God is greater than John?

What does this say about the kingdom of God and our place in it?

Jesus compares the people of His generation to children in the marketplace. What is He saying is wrong with their actions and attitudes towards both Himself and John the Baptist?

Does this passage challenge, encourage, correct, or teach you more about the beauty of the gospel?

---

Do you see any connections to Psalm 66 in the Luke passage? If so, what? How can this Psalm inform the way we can pray for one another?